TJCAS CULTURAL JAMBOREE 2K24

Classical Dance

The department achieved a historic milestone in the Classical Dance category. Leelavathi A and Janakiraman S delivered masterclasses in Abhinaya and Nritta, captivating the audience with their intricate footwork and emotional depth. Their performances were so exceptional that both were awarded the 1st Prize, setting a high standard for the entire cultural fest.

Solo Song

The vocal talent of our department was on full display during the Solo Song competition. Leelavathi A demonstrated her range and tonal control, earning a well-deserved 3rd Prize against a field of highly trained singers. Sridhar S also took the stage, delivering a confident performance that resonated well with the student gallery.

Adaptune

In a test of pure spontaneity and rhythm, the Adaptune event required participants to dance to unpredictable music changes. Leelavathi A showed incredible reflexes and creative flair, securing the 2nd Prize. Janakiraman S also participated, keeping the energy high and entertaining the crowd with his quick transitions.

Group Song (Boys)

Edwin Brightson S, Santhosh R, and Sridhar S teamed up for the Boys' Group Song event. They brought a powerful energy to the stage, showcasing great camaraderie and vocal strength that encouraged the audience to cheer along throughout their performance.

Tamil Speech

Our department's linguistic skills were highlighted by Chandrika S, who delivered a powerful and thought-provoking speech in Tamil. Her eloquence and command over the language earned her the 2nd Prize. Dhanush D also participated, presenting a well-researched perspective with great clarity.

English Speech

Chandrika S continued her winning streak in the oratorical events by securing the 2nd Prize in the English Speech category. Her ability to articulate complex ideas with confidence was matched by Edwin Brightson S, who also participated and delivered a very professional and structured address.

Group Dance

The energetic trio of Harshavarthan M, Janakiraman S, and Lokesh N set the stage on fire with their Group Dance routine. Their choreography was modern and fast-paced, reflecting the vibrant spirit of the first-year Accounting and Finance students and drawing a massive response from the crowd

Rangoli

The entrance to the venue was transformed by the artistic duo Hemalatha S and Mohana Priya L. Their Rangoli design featured symmetrical precision and a vibrant color palette that drew praise from the judges. Their ability to blend traditional patterns with contemporary themes earned them the 2nd Prize.

Mehandi

Hemalatha S and Rithika D represented our department in the Mehandi competition, showcasing fine-line work and traditional motifs. Their speed and precision during the timed event were impressive, and they contributed significantly to the department's strong presence in the fine arts category.

Face Painting

The Face Painting competition saw Leelavathi A and Mega S working together to create a visual masterpiece. Their use of color and thematic storytelling on a human canvas was highly creative, demonstrating that our students excel in unconventional artistic mediums as well.

Group Song (Girls)

The vocal harmony of Vishnupriya K, Jeevitha G, and Chandrika S was a highlight of the musical evening. Their synchronization and choice of melody created a soothing atmosphere in the auditorium, leading them to secure the 3rd Prize in a very competitive group category.

Drawing

In the Drawing competition, Mega S and Vishnupriya K showcased their technical skills in sketching and composition. Their artwork reflected a deep understanding of the theme, and their creative execution earned the department a proud 3rd Prize.

Copy Cat

The Copy Cat event provided much-needed humor and entertainment. Chandrika S displayed her versatility yet again, winning the 2nd Prize for her spot-on imitations and comedic timing. Vishnupriya K also participated, adding her own unique style to the performance.

Trash Craft

Promoting the message of sustainability, Chandrika S participated in the Trash Craft event. She successfully transformed everyday waste materials into an aesthetic art piece. Her innovative approach to recycling and design was recognized by the judges with a 2nd Prize.
